

INDOOR SWIMMING MEETS TO FEATURE NEW CENTRAL HIGH

Big Pool With Direct Sunlight
One of Finest in the States.

TEAMS TO BE ORGANIZED

Other Novel Features Make
New Building an Up-to-Date Plant.

For the first time in the history of Washington school athletics, indoor swimming meets are likely to be a feature this winter in the sports of Central High School.

Measuring 80 by 34 feet, and lighted by direct sunlight, a swimming pool has been constructed at the new Central High School building that is one of the finest of its kind in the country. Already plans are under consideration by the pupils of the school—girls as well as boys—to organize swimming teams when the new school building is thrown open at the beginning of the school term, October 2.

In every respect the new school is one of the best equipped of its kind in the United States.

Site Covers Nine Acres.
The site of the new school, covering about nine acres, extends from Eleventh street to Thirteenth street and from Florida avenue to Clifton street.

The building, three stories high, with an extreme width of 400 feet and a depth of 300 feet, is of the Georgian style of architecture. It is rectangular in shape and is faced with dark tapestry brick with Bedford stone trim.

There are three entrances to the first floor from Clifton street and seven entrances to the ground floor from all sides of the building. The building, fronting on the upper or Clifton street part of the site, sets back from the sidewalk fifty feet. Terraces 150 feet wide extend on either side to Eleventh and Thirteenth streets.

The three stories of the main building comprise the auditorium, classrooms, laboratories, music, and drawing rooms. The ground floor, well above grade, accommodates the lunchroom, domestic science rooms, mechanical drawing and manual training shops.

Armory in Basement.
Below the ground floor but still above grade, because of the slope of the hill, is a basement in which is located the armory, 102 feet by 38 feet; cadet officers' lounge, military instruction office, rifle range 102 feet by 22 feet; the swimming pool and the heating and power plants.

On the ground floor of the building the lunch room is a principal attraction. It opens into paved light courts, each of which has a fountain in the center. A kitchen, pantry, refrigerating plant, and a serving counter that will accommodate 800 students in one lunch period are some of the features of the lunchroom.

The manual training shops are in a covey building in the rear. Nothing is above them, so that the noise attending this kind of work is unheard in the rest of the building.

There are five manual training shops: the wood working shop, the wood turning shop, machine shop, forge shop, and a molding shop. All shops have stock room, lecture room, preparation room, finishing room, wash room and locker room in common.

Teachers of Practical Experience.
All teachers in these shops will be as far as possible, men of practical experience.

Four main stairways are placed at the intersections of the corridors at the four corners of the building. They are arranged in double rows so that pupils passing up may be independent of those passing down, thus doubling the effective use of the stairways for rapid circulation between floors.

Two additional stairways are placed to serve the gymnasiums and shops and are used as exits from the auditorium.

Near the main entrance on the first floor is the administrative group, among which Principal E. M. Wilson has his offices.

Auditorium Seats 1,955.
Occupying a central position on the first floor is the auditorium. Its balconies may be reached from the second and third floors. To provide means of rapidly emptying the hall seventeen exits are provided. The seating capacity of the auditorium is 1,955, a greater number than can be seated in any auditorium in the city except Convention Hall.

Principal Wilson says: "The great size of the stage, 79 feet by 42 feet, larger than that of most theaters, gives an unusual opportunity for the dramatic features of the school."

Directly behind the stage is the girls' gymnasium. Its spectators gallery will

CAMP, CHANGING WEATHER

Brings Its Toll of Sickness to Washington People.

Chilly, damp, changing weather is hard on the kidneys.
Even more irritating are colds, grip, and pneumonia.

They congest the kidneys.
They bring backache and disordered kidney action.

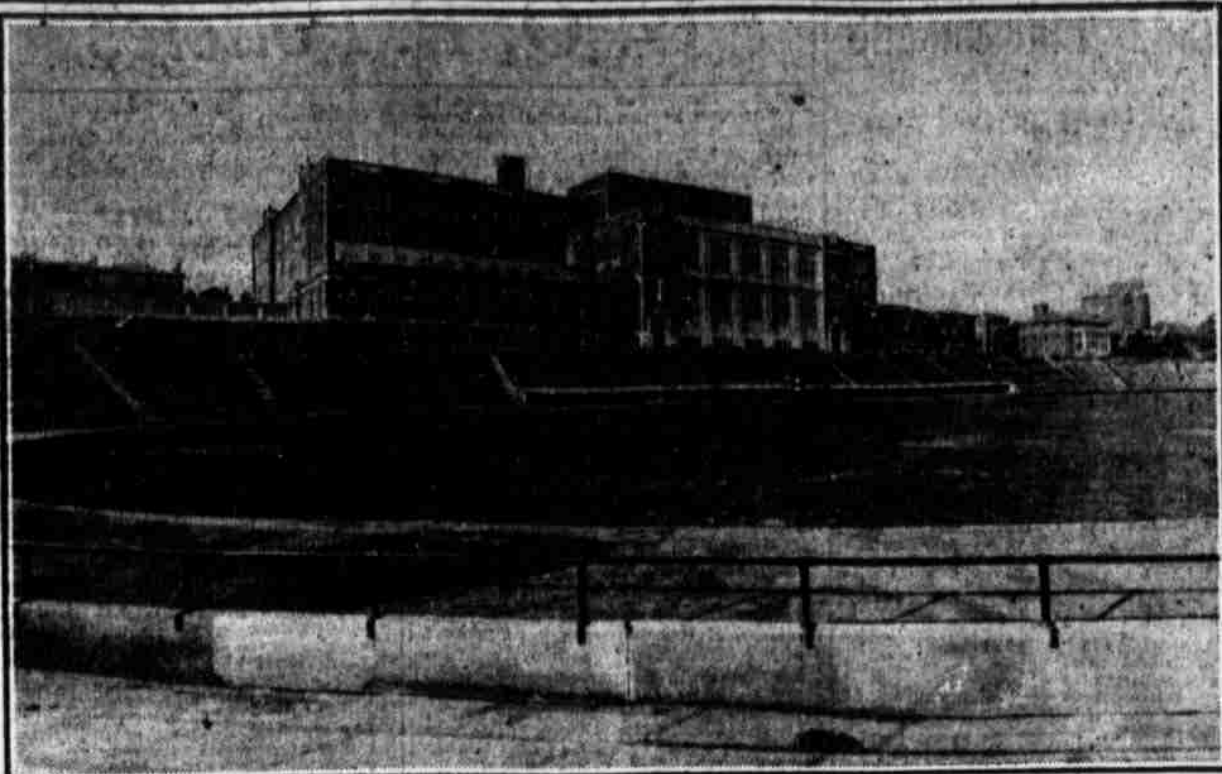

For weak kidneys use a tested remedy.
Washington people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Amanda B. Berkeley, 533 Tenth street southeast, Washington, says: "Damp weather always disorders my kidneys, and I have rheumatic pains all through my body. I can hardly bend over and when I do get down it hurts to straighten up again. When I use Doan's Kidney Pills at these times they put an immediate stop to the pains." (Statement given December 5, 1912.)

On November 29, 1915, Mrs. Berkeley said: "Doan's Kidney Pills are my only dependable medicine for kidney ailments, and they always give me relief. I recommend them at every opportunity."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Berkeley has twice publicly recommended.—Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

seat 336 persons. Below the girls' gymnasium is that of the boys. Both are 100 feet by 50 feet. The roof of the girls' gymnasium is tiled, to be used for outdoor study. About 400 students can be accommodated here.

In the forty-seven class rooms, 1,500 pupils can be accommodated. The laboratories will take care of about 300 more, making a pupil capacity of over 2,500.

Laboratories Plentiful.
Two physics, three chemistry, three physics, and three biology laboratories are arranged in groups on the second and third floors.

The library and stack room are on the second floor. The library is especially attractive, having at one end a carved stone mantel and fireplace. About 250 pupils can be accommodated at one time. The stack room provides for 10,000 volumes.

On the third floor are five art rooms, three for free-hand drawing and two for art craft work. These rooms open into a top lighted exhibition gallery 258 feet long and 18 feet wide.

Above the library, on the third floor, is a music and lecture room of the amphitheater type, seating 225 persons. The regular music classes, lectures, and faculty meetings will occupy this room.

A beautiful view is obtained from the upper windows of the building. It being possible to see Arlington and Mt. Vernon.

A synchronizing clock and bell system are part of the mechanical equipment.

Stadium Seats 6,000.
Athletics at the school should prosper. The site, having a 10 per cent grade, is a natural stadium, and this has been improved by a concrete stand seating 6,000. The stand extends half way around the quarter-mile track encircling the elliptical field. The field gives opportunity for football, baseball, basketball, track athletics, and tennis.

Tennis courts are also laid out between the building and Thirteenth street.

Under the stadium, connecting with both the field and the building, are rooms for competing athletes.

There is a broad promenade and the upper level of the stadium and the building. Under this promenade is found one of the most unique athletic features of the school. Extending the full length of the building, it furnishes underneath, between the back of the building and the stadium, an indoor cinder track, 25 feet wide and 128 yards straightaway. So far as is known it is the only track of its kind in America.

The building contains 5,482,000 cubic feet and cost $1,200,000. The plans for the building were drawn by William B. Itner, a St. Louis schoolhouse architect. The building was erected by William Dall, of Cleveland, under the supervision of the municipal architect, Snowden Ashford.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—For the second time Mrs. Katherine E. Jordan, wife of F. J. Principal Wilson says: "The great size of the stage, 79 feet by 42 feet, larger than that of most theaters, gives an unusual opportunity for the dramatic features of the school."
